

Creative Director: Collin Lloyd

Designer: William Chen

- Not super creative, feeling modern and formal.
 - Showing of the capitol building & facts that go with it rather than anything too crazy.
- Subtle animations that makes the page feel 'alive'
- Nav bar: symmetrical nav bar (logo/title in center, 2 pages left or right)
 - Home (not included in nav bar, landing page)
 - History
 - Body copy / architect of capitol
 - History of the building, important events
 - Maybe a timeline of the building construction?
 - Horizontal on desktop, vertical on mobile?
 - Interactive using css / javascript
 - Art
 - Heavily image based
 - In a gallery
 - Hover state that gives information about artist, whats going on in image, etc
 - Dome image that rotates
 - Architecture
 - More text based, explaining how the dome was made, architectural challenges
 - Neoclassical architectural
 - Include the names of the architects that worked on the buildings
 - Image Gallery
 - Cool, featured images of the outside of the capitol
- Sources: in footer of each page
- Colors: black, white, dark gray, use blue & red sparingly for accents

Audio recording: <https://wustl.box.com/s/ebx7yl8xnf8yxc4g6v0413h2ubnl2eba>